A New Beginning, Sun Does Not Set On U.S.A.

Nancy and Ronald Reagan

Ronald and Nancy Reagan are two of the nicest people not only in California but the entire United States of America. They are two of the most beautiful Americans, the kind that have in the past made Americans the MOST LOVED, HONORED and RESPECTED people the world has ever known. They are straight, square shooters, above board honest, clean in mind, body and soul. These were demonstrated for many years. He almost single-handed straightened out Hollywood. From that he went on to be the No. 1 elected Governor of California. While in Sacramento he drove out and smoked out the worst of the low class skum that the Democratic Party seems to 'hatch' and Reagan got California to be the most 'progressive' honest and efficient government in USA. At close of his term, hundreds of millions in surplus monies and State of California running like clock work. Only squawks coming from the skum class, or should say the skum who have no "class" at all! It is no secret what Democrats can do for you and to you and what a gang and 'culture' of bactericide is drawn to this "Hate Decent American Party" - the Democrats. They come from under rocks and out of the woodworks and out of the sewers attracted by the smell of the corruption...when a so called Liberal Democrat gets in office. When Ronald Reagan and Nancy took office, they attracted 'good people' who want to 'serve' and benefit our Nation and State. They have clean, decent, normal instincts and outlook of real Americans and they attracted this class to serve and help the 'Good Guys Team'. So when Ronald Reagan gets in office, he will pull thousands of decent loyal Americans to get involved in trying to SAVE THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA - from the DISASTER THAT LOOMS STRAIGHT AHEAD - perhaps the DOWNFALL of our great nation! In days of FDR and other times the Democrats were also 'Americans' and 'decent' but that's all past now, the decent ones have been converted to the Republican Party - no doubt many decent people that are still with the Democratic Party, a tiny few with no power. No doubt, Mr. Carter and his close family circle, including Billy (who is my favorite) are basically good and decent people. I will not lift my voice against Mr. Carter, but My God, the Monsters who run the party and are the wheels.

It is reported by Mr. John Tower, Republican, Texas, at the recent convention in Detroit: "Unless we elect Mr. Ronald Reagan President in November, the United States and the world will enter a DARK AGE - A LONG DARK AGE from which neither we nor our children or our children's children will emerge." Mr. Tower and hundreds, eventhousands, of our top people from the Army, Navy, Marines, and both Parties, men from every walk of life and I have said "this is the crisis of what could be the END of USA". Americans who are in their right mind have sense enough to come in, out of the rain and love their own native land and say, we must act quickly while it is yet day for the night cometh - to elect a clean slate and try to save America and to go on to the New Beginning as our founding father - George Washington predicted in his 'vision' for America that in these 'latter days' that we can and will, with the help of the Almighty God, by keeping the FEAR OF GOD BEFORE OUR EYES and upholding his Holy Righteous Laws and emerge out of the smoke as the CENTER and FOCUS and the LEADER OF THE ENTIRE WORLD - THE FLAT WORLD. George Washington said that we are the Light and Inspiration to all the nations - UPON THIS STRETCHED OUT PLANE - this one FLAT EARTH. It could be the New Beginning spoken of by the Republican Party is this crisis at the end of this age and the New Beginning is the GOLDEN AGE, THE MILLENNIUM...the one FLAT WORLD - USA showing the way, the USA the Great and Shinning Light that already has inspired the people of all earth, will now re-arm morally, and spiritually...put on the whole armor of Godland in other ways and go forth and TAKE CONTROL OF THIS EARTH and make the entire earth the delightful, prosperous FREE, HONEST, and BRAVE country - as the United States is Already! We FREE, DECENT, GOD FEARING SANE people of USA, bowing our head, giving THANKS for our many blessings, asking for the strength, courage, the power and the WILL TO STAND UP AND BE COUNTED, then TAKE CONTROL OF THIS COUNTRY AGAIN THEN TAKE CONTROL OF THE WORLD! You who read this and other decent God Fearing People are the Only Hope the World has. You are invited to the wedding - WILL YOU GO? You are called, you are chosen, BUT ARE YOU FAITHFUL? Get up, get out, do something - GET INVOLVED - VOTE for RONALD and NANCY, or vote for somebody - Get Active! Let's go for broke - for the New Beginning, the New Age, - C.K.J., August 1, 1980.

Senator John Tower, R-TX.

My mother and father were born and raised in Texas so I can tell you that when Sen. Tower - Republican of Texas - tells you: 'Time is Running Out'... 'The hour is at hand' that unless Mr. Reagan is elected, United States will enter a DARK AGE and loss of all power. As a 'Texan' he says this - you better listen, for he wouldn't say it unless he KNEW WHAT HE WAS TALKING ABOUT and can and will back it up, he would not lie about this, we better LISTEN and HEED - as the old saying goes, 'he who hesitates is lost'.

PILATE . . . washes his hands

"So when Pilate saw . . . that a tumult was arising, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude. . ."

From the little real knowledge that has come down to us concerning Pontius Pilate he does not appear to have been an evil-disposed man. He must have possessed at least a weak will to do the right thing, for at the arraignment of Jesus, we are told, he went out three times and tried to reason with the rabble before he finally gave them their way. The trouble was, he lacked the interest or the courage to go through with what he knew to be right. He was either a moral coward or a moral shirker, and no theatrical gesture with a hand basin could wash away his blood-guilt for a wrong he might have perpetrated.

Pilate happens to be the most historically conspicuous example of a very numerous tribe. They are everywhere around us, all trying to wash their hands of unpleasant responsibilities.

There is, for example, the man who knows what vivisection is and would like to see it abolished, but keeps silence from a sort of shame. Perhaps he fears the ridicule and abuse that must be faced by all who dare attack an established wrong on moral grounds, or he may be under the curious delusion that to be humane is to be in some way unmanly; as if there were ever anything in common between manliness and cruelty, which in all its forms is close kin to cowardice.

There is the woman who feels in her heart that vivisection may be the evil thing it is reputed to be, but shrinks from the harrowing details of its barbarities, which must be understood before a fair opinion can be formed. "Don't tell me those dreadful things," she begs. "My nerves won't stand them." But the nerves of the living animal may stand the knife, or the long drawn out misery of implanted disease, and she will not raise a finger to help it.

So these men and these women seem to take water and wash their hands of responsibility for the wrong. Like Pilate, they are not cruel or entirely callous. Most likely they have consciences. They "have felt the sublime prompting to do the painful right," and would prefer to follow it, but the moral courage is wanting, so, like Pilate, they persuade themselves that it is no affair of theirs.

But are they right? Is it not in some measure the concern of each one of us? In so far as it lies in our power to help right a wrong and we fail to do our part, to just that extent we are responsible for the perpetuation of that wrong. There is a noble obligation of character no less compelling than that of birth. The just man cannot in conscience pass by on the other side and leave the suffering to their fate, be they men or animals. If he can do no more than speak a word for their cause whenever opportunity arises, he is at least helping to form public opinion, and it is in public opinion that the strength of a good cause lies.

To bring help to the helpless has always been the mission and privilege of strong souls, and surely no victim ever appealed more poignantly for help than the forgotten little animal gagged and strapped down to the operating board, awaiting vivisection. Only an animal, yes, and man has "dominion" over the animals, which gives him the right to use them for his own purposes. All that might be granted, and still it would not follow that the common laws of decency and humanity are thereby abrogated.

ZETETIC ASTRONOMY (5th Installment)

Although the experiments already described, and many similar ones, have been tried and often repeated, the Author was induced once again to visit the scene of his former labours, and to make some other (one or more) experiment of so simple a character that no error of complicated instrument or process of surveying could possibly be involved. He left London for Downham Market Station on Tuesday morning, April 5, and arrived at the Old Bedford Sluice Bridge, about two miles from the station, at twelve o'clock. The atmosphere was remarkably clear, and the sun was shining brightly on and against the western face of the bridge. On the right hand side of the arch a large notice-board was affixed (a table of tolls, &c., for navigating the canal). The lowest edge of this board was 6 feet 6 inches above the water, as shown at B, fig. 12.

FIG. 12.

A train of several empty turf boats had just entered the canal from the River Ouse, and was about proceeding to Romsey, in Huntingdonshire. An arrangement was made with the "Captain" to place the shallowest boat the last in the train; on the lowest part of the stern of this boat a good telescope was fixed—the elevation being exactly 18 inches above the water. The sun was shining strongly against the white noticeboard, the air was exceedingly still and clear, and the surface of the water "smooth as a molten mirror," so that everything was extremely favourable for observation. At 1:15 p.m., the train of boats started for Welney. As the boats receded the notice-board was kept in view, and was plainly visible to the naked eye for several miles; but through the telescope it was distinctly seen throughout the whole distance of six miles. But on reaching Welney Bridge, a very shallow boat was procured, and so fixed that the telescope was brought to within 3 inches of the surface of the water; and still the bottom of the notice-board was clearly visible. The elevation of the telescope being 3 inches, the line of sight would touch the horizon, if convexity exists, at the distance of one statute mile; the square of the remaining five miles, multiplied by 8 inches, gives a curvature of 16 feet 8 inches, so that the bottom of the notice-board—6 feet 6 inches above the water—should have been 10 feet 2 inches below the horizon, as shown in fig. 13—But as always and forever it was flat.

FIG. 13.

Fluids Facts Logic, Earth Is Flat

It is in the nature of fluids to be and remain level, and when that level is disturbed by any influence whatever, motion ensues until the level is resumed.

Professor Airy tells us, in his "Six Lectures on Astronomy," that "quick-silver is perfectly fluid, its surface is perfectly horizontal." We may add that all fluids are the same, for the reason given by the next writer.

Mr. W. T. Lynn, of the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, in his "First Principles of Natural Philosophy," says: "the upper surface of a fluid at rest is a horizontal plane. Because if a part of the surface were higher than the rest, those parts of the fluid which were under it would exert a greater pressure upon the surrounding parts than they receive from them, so that motion would take place amongst the particles and continue until there were none at a higher level than the rest, that is, until the upper surface of the whole mass of fluid became a horizontal plane."

The English Mechanic of 26th June, says:

"Since any given body of water. . . . must have a level surface, i.e., no one part higher than another, and seeing that all our oceans (a few inland seas excepted) are connected together, it follows that they are all VIRTUALLY OF THE SAME LEVEL."

More and more I come to believe that any person who is 'on the level' about seeking the truth Can and Will understand There is no 'question' or 'debate' about the demonstrated FACT the Very LAW of Nature...that EARTH IS FLAT!

Sir.—In August last I, with several other friends, being in Oban for a holiday, took a trip for a day in a small yacht on Loch Lorne, and being a glorious sunshiny day and so calm that not a ripple was seen, and being becalmed for an hour about mid-day we observed a good many sights of various kinds. Amongst other things that we saw was a yacht, which the captain told us was 12 miles distant. We saw all the masts and part of the hull, and to get a better view of her we took our binocular opera glass (a good one). Now, sir, wouldn't it require a funny curvature table either with or without the odd fractions to explain how we saw the hull of that vessel twelve miles off? According to a table furnished by the present Astronomer Royal recently, it ought to have been 66 feet below the line of sight; but the "table" that we saw it from was the side of our yacht, and we concluded the sea was level.

Yours respectfully,

Siddal, Halifax.

JOHN SMITH.

"If we take a trip down the Chesapeake Bay, in the daytime, we may see for ourselves the utter tallacy of the idea that when a vessel appears "hull down," as it is called, it is because the hull is "behind the water" for, vessels have seen, and may often be seen again, presenting the appearance spoken of, and away—far away—beyond those vessels, and, at the same moment, the level shore line, with its accompanying complement of tall trees, towering up, in perspective, over the heads of the 'hull-down' ships!"

C. New York

Whatever the fate man claims the privilege of imposing on the animals by virtue of his acquired dominion over them, a higher principle than the tyrant's right of conquest demands that it be executed in a humane manner. If that is impossible then obviously the thing is one that ought not to be done at all. There is no such thing as a right to do wrong, however plausible the pretext.

How it ever can be held by any unbiased mind that kindness and mercy toward human beings are essential qualities of an upright character, but toward the sub-human races these same qualities may be renounced at will without blame or shame, is something of a mystery. Certainly there is no foundation in reason for such a distinction. Kindness is good and cruelty is bad, and it is not the zoological classification of the object that makes them so, it is a truth as fundamental as the concept of good and evil.

But, say the vivisectors, our cruelty is excusable because we hope thereby to serve the human race.

Here is a topsy-turvy conception of right and wrong. If it is righteous thing to vivisect dogs and rabbits "for the good of the human race," on what reasoning can the teamster be restrained from clubbing his horse over the head to make him pull harder for the same high end, and why should the law not burn criminals instead of electrocuting them, so that researchers may study their reactions? By the same guileless logic Adolf Hitler had no difficulty at all in figuring out a complete justification for his own peculiar method of bringing peace to the world. All for the good of the human race!

Surely there are limits in morality to what man may do for his own profit. That people of unquestionable humaneness toward men are so often found condoning the ghastly processes of animal vivisection, marks a strange blind spot in the human con-

Hooks and Kennedy after visiting Jordan.

John, brother of Ted Kennedy, in league with enemy agents Mad Dog German Nazi Commies began the space program hoax to undermine the defenses of U.S.A. Now USA has Kennedy Democrat TV movies of 'moon landings'...Nazi Germany and Nazi USSR has real airplanes, ships, tanks and guns. Thanks to the Democrats, U.S.A. today at the mercy of enemies! In my opinion, it is impossible to be a Democrat and love U.S.A. at the same time! Democrats have done us in!

Democratic Party produces degenerate insanity? People are wondering if it is all the violent sex degenerates sodomites lesbians torture murderers just naturally 'fit' in the Democratic Party of if the 'Party' produces these symptoms? Last couple of years there were at least five Mass Torture by Sodomite Murderers. They tortured to death at least 200 people, mostly young men. Each and every one was a 'leading democrat'. The contractor near Chicago tortured to death in most horrible, painful, insane, and degenerate way 25 or 30 young men — a real wheel in the Democrat Party. One in Houston, the torture this sodomite gay did on 75 or 100 is too hideous to tell...top Democrat...right in the town where the Queen's Space Control Center is located. Of course one reason is that all Sodomite Gays are Democrats — out west here the Democrat Party is now called the Sodomite Lesbian Party. And of course most ALL so-called 'Gays' real name Sodomites are sadists, in their perverse brains to inflict torture is a pleasure. Many homosexuals are like this. A certain Intelligence Service' made available to us, finds ALL perverts...are Democrats! Jim Jones, the Swamie Arvan Commie Indian, the hater of white and all straight people, the one who rented the old Synagogue in San Francisco for his People's Temple was a real top Democrat, a wheel in the Party. He got together hundreds of victims and sodomites lesbians, made a dope sex fiend farm in British Guyana. Seems he and the rest of his Democrat gang had a 'death wish' they all 'committed suicide'. Jim Jones did it with a 30.06 from 200 feet away, and the rest of the creeps did it with 30.06's in the back of the head — real weird people! Oh yeah! Now it seems a Jet Black Creep named Jordan, like Jones a real hater of white and decent people has tried to commit suicide. Yeah, he too used a 30.06 from 300 feet away ... pity, he failed ... better luck next time Vernon Jordan. The two Fat Cats in-the picture Ben Hooks and Ted Kennedy are agents for some foreign power, don't know if it is just BERLIN, ROME, and MOSCOW or maybe its in the 'middle east'? Anyway these two sure look worried — will Democrats go the way of Lemmings?

Eclipses of the Moon

From "Wonders of the Sun, Moon, and Stars" I extract the following:

"Astronomers, by mere calculation, are able to forecast the position of any luminary at any time for many years to come. By the same means, they can foretell to a second, the commencement, duration, precise aspect, and the ending of all the eclipses that will occur for a lifetime hence, and more, without limitation. Such being the case, the theories upon which the calculations are based must be true, or the correctness of such calculations would be impossible."

This statement, and similar ones so often made, have had the effect desired by their inventors. The public have believed that the theory of a globular world is true, because astronomers can correctly foretell eclipses. This is a totally erroneous view of the matter, as eclipses have no connection with the shape of the world, and are not calculated on any theory, but on well-known time cycles. In "Pagan Astronomy," by A. McLines, the following occurs:

"More than 2,000 years ago the Chaldeans presented to Alexander the Great at Babylon, tables of eclipses for 1,993 years; and the ancient Greeks made use of the cycle of 18 years, 11 days, the interval between two consecutive eclipses of the same dimensions. A total eclipse of the sun occurred on Jan. 22, 1879, and the preceding one on Jan. 11, 1861. Now, have not mere theorising about the sun and moon—the great unerring clocks of time—thrown chronology and the calendar into confusion, and hence scientists cannot agree as to the world's age, and the year absurdly begins on Jan. 1 instead of at the vernal equinox, the months consisting of 31 or 30 days one of 28? However, it can be shown that, with eclipse and star transit cycles, the greatest accuracy as to dates may be attained.

"Going back, for example, from Jan. 11, 1861, through a period of thirty-six eclipses, or 651 years, we find that a total eclipse occurred also on Jan. 11, 1210; and, continuing backwards, by such cycles we arrive precisely at the date of creation as given by Moses in Genesis. Also, as related by Josephus, the moon was eclipsed in the fifth month of 3,998 a.m., when Herod the Great died, and Christ being then two years old, His birth occurred 3,996."

In "The Triumph of Philosophy," Mr. J. Gillespie informs us as follows:

"I am asked to take into consideration how they, with the present theory, can calculate and foretell eclipses and other events with surprising accuracy. Now, I can prove that long before the present theory was ever thought of, even 600 years before Christ, the ancients discovered the difference of local time or the hour of the day between places of different longitudes, knew the causes and laws of eclipses, and the motion of the sun, moon and stars with surprising accuracy."

R. J. Morrison, F.A.S.I., R.N., in his "New Principia," says:

"Eclipses, occultations, the positions of the planets, the motions of the fixed stars, the whole of practical navigation, the grand phenomena of the course of the sun, and the return of the comets, may all and every one of them be as accurately, nay, more accurately, known without the farrago of mystery the mathematicians have adopted to throw dust in the eyes of the people, and to claim honours to which they have no just title. . . . The public generally believe that the longitudes of the heavenly bodies are calculated on the principles of Newton's laws. Nothing could be more false."

T. C. Ferguson, in the Earth Review,

"No doubt some will say, 'Well, how do the astronomers foretell the eclipses so accurately.' This is done by cycles. The Chinese for thousands of years have been able to predict the various solar and lunar eclipses, and do so now, in spite of their disbelief in the theories of Newton and Copernicus. Keith says, 'The cycle of the moon is said to have been discovered by Meton, an Athenian, B.C. 433,' when, of course, the spinning whirling ball was not dreamt of."

Disciples of "Sir" Isaac Newton Idiots?

Many men of thought and learning have scouted the ideas imposed upon us by Sir Isaac Newton, of which the following is a sample:—

"The repetition of a blunder is impertinent and ridiculous. To liberate oneself from an error is difficult, sometimes indeed impossible for even the strongest and most gifted minds. But to take up the error of another, and persist in it with stiff-necked obstinacy, is a proof of poor qualities. The obstinacy of a man of originality when he errs may make us angry, but the stupidity of the copyist irritates and renders us miserable. And if, in our strife with (Sir Isaac) Newton, we have sometimes passed the bounds of moderation, the whole blame is to be laid upon the school of which Newton was the head, whose in competence is proportional to its arrogance, whose laziness is proportional to its self-sufficiency, and whose virulence and love of persecution hold each other in perfect equilibrium." "Through the whole of Newton's experiments there runs a display of pedantic accuracy, but how the matter really stands, with Newton's gift of observation, and with his experimental aptitudes, every man possessing eyes and senses may make himself aware. It may be boldly asked, where can the man be found, possessing the extraordinary gifts of Newton, who would suffer himself to be deluded by such a hocus pocus if he had not in the first instance willfully deceived himself? Only those who know the strength of self-deception, and the extent to which it sometimes trenches on dishonesty, are in a condition to explain the conduct of Newton and of Newton's school. To support his unnatural theory, Newton heaps fiction upon fiction, seeking to dazzle when he could not convince."—GOETHE. Proceedings of the Royal Institution of Great Britain. Vol. ix., part iii, p. 353-5.

Sacred Cows

In our youth we are taught that the cattle are sacred,
That sensible people believe in this fact.
We don't really believe that the cattle are sacred,
And yet we believe that the others believe,
And accordingly we treat the lowliest cattle
As holiest of all us dumb animals.

In our youth we are taught that the earth's shape is global,
That sensible people believe in this fact.
We don't really believe that the earth's shape is global,
And yet we believe that the others believe,
And accordingly we treat ourselves and all people
As fleas creeping over a wild spinning ball.

science. In this modern day, which all for re-examining ancient presumptions and rooting out long-standing abuses, it is about time to inquire why our conduct toward the animals, should be considered a matter of irresponsible caprice, outside the range of the moral law which applies to all other actions.

Pilates come and go, and the world is little better for their having lived their lives of moral mediocrity, content to take things they find them, leaving to others all tough and unpleasant problems. The thing that moves the world forward is that "divine discontent" which cannot see a wrong, no matter how time-honored, without wanting to do something about it.

The ceaseless torture of animals in research and biological laboratories is not only a wrong to the victims but a debasing influence on the collective conscience of the society that shabbily expects to profit by it. The men and women who are attacking this social ulcer — the physician who, knowing it well, condemns it openly, the clergyman who does not fear to opeak against it from the pulpit or among his people, the teachers and parents who implant the nobility of humaneness in the young minds they guide, authors who help with a word here and there in their published works, all crusading spirits who scorn to ask whether a cause is popular, so it be right — these are of the kind who leave the world better than they found it; these, and not the animal-torturers, are the ones who, in the higher and broader sense, are working "for the good of the human race."

Science Insults Your Intelligence

Iron, Salt, &c., are said to be elements of the sun's composition, and as the earth contains these and other minerals, it is a globe or planet like the other heavenly bodies which contain the same metals. What is known as:

SPECTRUM ANALYSIS

is relied upon as proving this. A prism is placed in position so as to intercept the sun's rays, and the colours seen through this instrument, red, orange, yellow, blue, are said to be the result of the various metals contained in the sun in a state of fusion, emitting their several colours in the combined sunlight, which total light is decomposed into its component colours by the prism.

With the object of testing the conclusions arrived at by the learned relative to spectrum analysis, several experiments were made by the writer. The light of the sun on a clear day, about noon, seen through the prism disclosed the various colours that can be seen through this instrument. On a hazy day before sunset the colors seen were the same but very faint. Light from a lighthouse and a star seen through the prism, showed the colours to be the same, the colors from the light of the star being much less brilliant than that from the lighthouse. Light from a lamp gave the same result as light from a star or the sun, only much fainter. Then the electric light was tried. A large street lamp of great power and several others of less power gave the same result as the sun, star, lighthouse, and street lamp, but in various degrees of brilliancy according to the power of the light. Even a candle gave a very faint yellow-blue tinge, so slight that it had to be looked at for some time before anything but blue was apparent.

If, therefore, it be argued that spectrum analysis proves that the sun is made of the same metals as we find in the earth, and that, therefore, the earth is a product of evolution then it is equally clear that the electric light and the glass shade of the lamp which encases it are really composed of iron and various iron metals in a state of fusion, constituting indeed, a globe of glowing vapour, and not glass, carbon, &c., at all. It is also as reasonable to conclude that the kerosene lamp and the candle are composed of metals in a state of fusion and that there is in reality no paraffine, no glass, no tallow, and no wick. That is to say, known facts must be thrown aside, common-sense stultified, and reason dethroned in order to bolster up the unprovable assumptions of modern science relative to the doctrine of evolution as applied to the earth and the heavenly bodies.

World IS Flat... And That's That

Johnson on the Shore

The truth is a fact and a fact is the truth and the Twain cannot be parted.

The form of idiocy that says 'anything you want to be Truth IS the Truth is whatever you or he say it is' or you make it true by 'saying it is true' have not only missed the boat but missed the HUMAN RACE and belong in the Pavlov's pack. This is EXACTLY what is the central DOGMA of so-called 'modern science theory' also called 'christian science' that nothing is real but delusions, dreams, ideas, theories, so just any idiocy, such as the claim that earth is a spinning, whirling, gyrating, grease or greek or swamie ball, is the truth as long as you wish it to be or your 'time' you want it to be so. No amount of dreaming or pretending or 'time bending' has ever made the Flat World a Ball - either Swamie, Arian, or Greek or Catholic or Church of Germany - the world is flat and that is that! In this NEW BEGINNING...let us BEGIN with Truth or Fact ... earth is FLAT. Sun revolves around and above the Flat Earth 3,000 miles high - IT DOES NOT SET ON USA. Is said in scripture that in the Day of the New Beginning the New Age will be declared. THE SUN DOES NOT SET ... so it is to YOU so Declared today, August 1, 1980. THE SUN DOES NOT SET. Not Understood

Not understood. We move along asunder.

Our paths grow wider as the seasons creep
Along the years; We marvel and we wonder
Why life is life. And then we fall asleep—
Not understood.

Not understood. We gather false impressions.
And hug them closer as the years go by.

Till virtues often seem to us transgressions;
And thus men rise and fall, and live and die—
Not understood.

Not understood. Poor souls with stunted vision
Oft measure giants by their narrow gauge.
The poisoned shafts of falsehood and derision
Are oft impelled 'gainst those who mold the age—
Not understood.

Not understood. The secret springs of action,
Which beneath the surface of the show,
Are disregarded: with self-satisfaction
We judge our neighbors, and they often go—
Not understood.

Not understood. How trifles often change us!
The thoughtless sentence or the fancied slight
Destroy long years of friendship, and estrange us,
And on our souls there falls a freezing blight—
Not understood.

Not understood. How many breasts are aching
For lack of sympathy! Ah, day by day
How many cheerless, lonely hearts are breaking
How many noble spirits pass away—
Not understood.

O God, that men would see a little clearer,
Or judge less harshly where they cannot see!
O God, that men would draw a little nearer
To one another They'd be nearer Thee—
And understood.

Directory Provides Access to Business Services

Directories and similar publications rank right up there with newsletters as sources of vital, on-target information about what's going on in any given field. The best source of information about these very handy guides seems to be a brand-new book, The Directory of Directories, distributed by Gale Research Co., Book Tower, Detroit 48226 ($56.00). (Gale also does the Encyclopedia of Associations, well known to most researchers.) The DOD is 722 pages, with over 3,100 concise but detailed entries and really good subject and title indexes which make the book very easy to use. Supplements are published about every six months under the title, Directory Information Service.

Gale also provides access to business information sources in the brand-new Business Organizations and Agencies Directory ($72.00). The 596-page volume covers a wide range of agencies and services vital to modern business activity. Separate chapters provide names, addresses, phone numbers, and additional details on: Commodity and Stock Exchanges... Better Business Bureaus... Federal Government Agencies... Regional Planning and Development Agencies... Franchise Companies... Hotel-Motel Systems... and much more. The broad scope of BOAD should eliminate much time wasted in consulting a stack of specialized publications.
